JURY PONDERS MURDER COUNT

CLEVELAND (A)A jury in Com mon Pleas Court today began deliberating the fate of Dr. Sam Sheppard, the 30-year-old osteopath who is charged with bludgeoning to death his pregnant wife, Marilyn,

Judge Edward Blythin delivered a 36-minute charge to the jury in which he gave them five possible verdicts in the charge of murder.

The five possible verdicts are: 1. Guilty of first-degree murder without recommendation of mercy, which carries a mandatory death sentence

2. Guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation of mercy; the penalty in this decision is mandatory life imprisonment. But, after 20 years, the State Pardon and Parole Commission must review the case to determine whether the sentence should be commuted. If the commission so recommends the governor may commute the sentence. That makes the convicted person eligible for parole.

Tired of the life you lead? Wish something new and different would happen to you?

You do? Well, the National Safety Council knows some folks who would just love to trade places with you. Something new and different happened to them, all right, but for some reason none of them seemed too pleased about it.

Who are these choosy characters? They're the victims of the 1954 crop of odd accidents turned up by the Council in its annual quest for freak happen-

Let's see what's new and different that you'd like to have happen to you:

The best-scrubbed throat and esophagus in all America probably belonged to Mrs. Jessie Lee Dugar, of Houston, Tex., the day two men got into a fight in front of her home as she was brushing her teeth. Mrs. Dugar got so excited she swallowed the toothbrush. Tuft luck!

When Lew Babcock, of Kansas.. City, said "I feel like I've been hit by a ton of bricks," he meant it. He had! Mr. Babcock was walking past a condemned building when a brick wall collapshed on him. Police found him waist-deep in rubble, dazed but otherwise uninjured.

Many a baseball player has blown up in a tight game. But few have done it so literally as 10-year-old Billy Law, of Anadarko, Okla. Billy slid into home plate with his cap pistol still dangling from his side and seven extra rolls of caps in his hip pocket. The friction set fire to the caps, and its was the noisiest homecoming any baseball game ever saw. The umpire understandably ruled that Billy overshot the plate.

Three-year-old Larry Jensen, of Princeton, Ill., was really a dizzy, mixed-up kid the day he adventurously stepped into the family clothes dryer and his brother, Gregory, 4, just as adventurously turned on the juice. Larry's mother rescued him, gidd but not too battered, and discovered there are somethings a machine can't do. She had to dry his tears by hand.

In Mariaville, N. Y., a lovely Joyce Engehardt was crowned Empire State Honey Queen. A few minutes later she was stung by a bee right in the midst of her reign. The next time John La Rocca, of Los Angeles, gets mad he won't take it out on his car. Good and sore about something, John hauled off and kicked the bumper. The bumper kicked right back and sent John to the hospital with a banged-up head. His kick snapped a bolt that held the bumper under tension.

CARROLL SHOE CO.

The Most Consistent Advertiser Is The Most Successful Merchant

HE ANSWER, as you know, is that the engine and the steering wheel are equally important. If either part were missing, the car couldn't function.

The same principle applies to our American industrial system: it takes both "Capital" and "Labor" to make it work.

With willing investors to provide tools, and skilled workers to man them efficiently, American industry has reached the highest level of production in history - and Americans enjoy the highest living standard.

Would any reasonable person deny the investor's right to a fair return for risking his savings, any more than the worker's right to a fair wage? Of course not.

Communists, however, aren't reasonable people. They desperately want to break up our "winning combination." But when they trot out their phony arguments, trying to set one group against another, Americans just look around them and reply "Our system really gives us what you only promise. We like what we've got - and we'll keep it!"

Another winning combination: Americans and the nation's banks in which they deposit. Our staff believes that our bank's success depends largely on the success we help our depositors to achieve. On that basis, we invite your account.
